Introduction of the event:

The Department of Botany celebrated World Wetlands Day on 3rd February 2025 to highlight the significance of wetlands in biodiversity conservation, climate regulation, and sustainable development. This annual event, observed globally on 2nd February, commemorates the adoption of the Ramsar Convention on Wetlands in 1971.

We are honored to have Mr. Krunal Zalke, Trainer, Nandi Foundation, Mahindra Pride, as the esteemed guest speaker for this occasion. His expertise and experience in environmental awareness and sustainable practices will provide valuable insights into the importance of wetland ecosystems and their conservation.

The program will be presided over by Dr. V. G. Manwatkar, whose guidance and leadership have been instrumental in promoting environmental awareness through academic and research initiatives. The event is being meticulously organized under the supervision of Dr. S. D. Yeotkar, ensuring a well-structured and impactful session. The session was concluded with a Vote of Thanks by Mr. R. S. Pawar, acknowledging the contributions of all individuals involved in making this event a success.

Objectives of the event:

- Educate students about the importance of wetlands and their role in biodiversity, climate regulation, and water purification.
- Encourage students to participate in wetland conservation efforts and understand the threats to wetland ecosystems.

- Inspire students to adopt eco-friendly habits that help protect wetlands, such as reducing pollution and conserving water.
- Encourage students to spread awareness in their communities and take part in local conservation projects.

Outcomes of Activity:

- Students will gain knowledge about wetlands, their types, and their importance in maintaining ecological balance.
- Learning how wetlands act as carbon sinks, reducing global warming effects.
- To Understand how pollution and human activities degrade wetlands and ways to prevent it.
