Introduction of the event:

It makes the library users aware of the library and services it offers. It educates users regarding the general use of the library, where specific items can be found, how to obtain the library material you need . Library orientation is of a particular value to users who are coming to the library for the first time. To taking library user training is that students and professors should get information about library subject and also library books, reference tools, N list, e-pathshala, e-journal, e-book, competitive exams, various activities in the library, as well as the software used in the library, Auto Lib 10.0 software. OPAC is informed about this. Therefore, students and professors can get the information of the book in the library by themselves; saving the reader's time is the third formula of librarianship. It is the duty of the library to provide information about how to use it.

Objective of the event:

- 1) Providing information in college library when students have access to library through school life.
- 2) Information about software, N list, OPAC, used for work in libraries is provided.
- 3) What services are provided in the library, the students are given information about the new books, reference tools in the library.
- 4) After providing the information in the library, feedback is reviewed regarding how much knowledge has been gained.

Outcome:

- (1) Students, students and professors, researchers will be attracted to the library.
- (2) Due to N-list, students and professors can search for information and give information to students, thus increasing the importance of library.
- (3) N-list will attract readers and researchers to the library.
- (4) The reader will save time and will be motivated to do research.
- (5) Professors, staff and students come to the library to seek information and if any information is not received, the librarian provides guidance.

Any Suggestion for future Improvement:

- 1) There is an increased demand of students and professors to take library user training on a large scale.
- 2) To provide new information about libraries for new readers, students.
